ORDER FROM CHAMBERS
REGARDING DISCOVERY PLAN
and
PRETRIAL MOTION SCHEDULE

This criminal case charges defendant with theft, fraud and misapplication from an organization receiving federal funds and money laundering.

Trial in this case is currently set for June 11, 2012. The case was declared complex by District Court Judge Timothy Burgess on February 24, 2012. Docket 47.

It is the purpose of this order to set a time table for the government's production of designated categories of discovery so further litigation will not be needed. It is the intent of the Court to avoid unnecessary delay in the production of discovery. The parties should continue to work together to provide available discovery to the defense expeditiously and economically. The defendant should avoid filing boiler plate discovery motions where the matter can be resolved by meeting and conferring with the government attorney.

The Pretrial Motion Schedule is binding on all counsel in this case unless otherwise ordered. This order is not subject to amendment by the parties without Court approval. The deadlines set below present the latest dates on which the government has to produce evidence relevant to that category. In the spirit of continued cooperation the Court expects the government to provide discovery prior to those dates when feasible. The government will keep a list of discovery provided to the defendant and the date it was produced.

Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963) and Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972) is due no later than May 3, 2012.

5. The government will notify defendant by March 10, 2012 of its intent to use statements of co-conspirators and the government will identify those statements as specifically as possible by March 10, 2012.

8. Government expert reports and summary of expert testimony during the case-in-chief pursuant to Fed. R. Crim. P. 16 (A)(1)(G) shall be produced by the government by May 8, 2012.

9. Defendant expert reports shall be produced by the defense to the government by May 8, 2012.

14. Evidence of conviction of a crime which the government seeks to introduce at trial pursuant to Fed. R. Evid. 609 shall be disclosed on or before May 31, 2012.

Both the government and defense have a continuing duty to disclose any additional evidence or material discovered before or during trial if the federal rules or this Court's order requires its production. Such evidence must be promptly disclosed to the other party or the Court.

If a party fails to comply with this discovery order, the Court may order that discovery or inspection occur by a certain date and in a certain manner; grant a continuance; prohibit the offending party from introducing the undisclosed evidence at trial; or enter any other order that is just under the circumstances.
